Industrial? Stainless steel? Think again!
DELABIE combines expertise and creativity to reshape and reinterpret stainless steel.

Stainless steel at the heart of design

Stainless steel is a resilient and unbreakable material. Which is why it is often recommended for places with high levels of vandalism. But stainless steel should not only be used in prisons!

100% recyclable, it is a noble material which combines resilience, hygiene and design.

It is, therefore, at home in all public places: restaurants, offices, shopping centres, museums, schools, hotels, etc.

FINO designer urinal

An indispensable product in washrooms and a must-have product from DELABIE's stainless steel range: the FINO urinal.

As stylish as it is functional, this urinal is very light and easy to install. Its concealed trap makes it ideal for use in public places such as restaurants, schools or offices.

Rimless and made from bacteriostatic 304 stainless steel, it provides efficient and hygienic rinsing.

The FINO urinal is available with recessed supply (ref. 135710) or exposed supply (ref. 135110).
